

PWISTA Summer 08 Institute

Method of Developing Vertical AP Teaming in English

Presented by

David Fritz, College Board Pre-AP Consultant

This class is designed to assist teachers align the English curriculum at the secondary level to create a vertical class sequence to assist in preparing students for the rigors of Advance Placement in English classes. The workshop will address the overall goal of vertical teaming as well as the plan of implementation for a successful programmatic change. Teachers will have the opportunity to discuss strategies and to create outcomes at particular grade levels that will lead up to AP classes. Specific strategies and techniques will be discussed throughout the workshop. All English teachers from middle school and high school can benefit by learning about the various skills and terms that AP class requires. The goal of this workshop is to give teachers a plan to create an English curriculum that will help more students be successful in taking AP courses.
